

Decorating Your Body

This is a wonderful exciting way to play with your lover and is very sexy and arousing. Whether you like to be an exhibitionist (show off) or a voyeur (watch) or you like it all; body painting, jewelry, and costumes are all a great way to dress up the body.

You can start easy with inexpensive and non permanent decorating. This way you can play showing off one day in something soft and subtle; the next, loud and vibrant or nothing at all for the days like Sunday with the relatives.

Body painting can be very fun, creative and erotically artistic. You can get the Glow in the Dark Body Paints and apply to the body with a brush or fingers. They come with stencils and use a black light for best visual effects. Or Edible Body Paints are a tasty treat and extra stimulating when you lick it up if you make a mistake or after you are done applying and admiring. They both are water soluble and wash off you easily.

Then there is the popular Liquid Latex painting which can be a real turn on as it looks and feels like a second skin. This makes it fun for the more daring exhibitionist to wear out as it can even look like clothing or other interesting architect as you get good at applying it. It does require more effort and patience as it looks best with 2-4 coats, but it can also last a couple days if applied properly. You can apply it over genital areas, even hairy areas; you just need to put a lotion under it so it will easily peel off when you want to take it off. They come in all kinds of colors even fluorescents, and kits which is more economical. Then you have shimmery powder top coatings and slick sprays to make it sparkle and shine more. It is a wonderful sensation to just run your fingers over it gently.

Jewelry for the body's erogenous zones is plentiful. Pierceless Nipple Rings can look like the real thing. Surprise your partner and put a pair on and tease them that you just had your nipples pierced and see the reaction. Or trendy these days is also Burlesque Pasties. They are very sexy and even look better with the tassels swirling around. Get the Strip-A-Size Video and learn an erotic song and dance to do while wearing. The Clit Clip not only looks tantalizing but is also stimulating for her when wearing and especially when walking about in tight pants as the jewels can rub the entire vagina area. Or stimulating and extremely hot to look at is the Pearl Thong, but the new Double Pearl Thong that is now out is even very stimulating on the penis for him. During intercourse the two strands of pearls are wrapped around both sides of the penis thus giving a hands free pearl necklace massage on every stroke you take. There are a few items to dress him up such as the Leather Cock Collar, made of leather and steel buttons or fun things like the Fireman Hose Undies, the Candy Necklace Pouch which also has matching styles for her.

For some vibrating fun try the Wireless Remote Control Panties, or thongs, butt plugs, bullets, and clit stimulators. All are made to wear on erogenous zones while you or a partner controls the vibration from up to 30 feet away, even behind walls or on different floors. You can be at a party and turn them on whenever you feel like it. Beware; they do have a defect, as the remotes are universal so you may be turning on someone else too! Hopefully no one minds. For a vibrating tongue try the unique Tongue Joy. This micro vibe is worn on your tongue and it also comes with an extra bar for people with real tongue rings to easily use and show off!

Dressing in provocative outfits when entertaining or going out and costumes on Halloween, at theme parties or alternative clubs always makes for a night of excitement. Check out the great stuff by Allure Leather or the brand new Coquette lingerie and outfits.

We all probably have a little exhibitionist and voyeur in us. Whether you walked by a window in your skimpy lingerie and smirked that someone may have got a peak or you were sexually allured by someone wearing something kinky and could not stop staring. Decorating the body beautiful is natural and can be very stimulating and hours of fun for everyone.
