

Where To Start On Buying A Love Toy!

There are thousands of toys for him, her and both partners to enjoy together. Take the time to look, buy and then the so deserved quality time to use them and enjoy the multiple healthy benefits. Having an orgasm increases endorphins that make you feel good all over, releases stress, makes your skin look younger and even reduces breast cancer. More information is being researched all the time. A great book to learn all about them and what might suit your needs and wants is Toygasm by Sadie Allison. Sex toys are not to be feared. Many have been raised to think this is bad, dirty, not right, but it is all good, really! You just have to give yourself permission, relax and enjoy the ride. And men this is not going to replace you, it is going to make your bedroom efforts a whole lot easier and with optimum results to make everyone very happy. It is nice to try new things and mix it up a bit.

For the reserved, start with massage oils, like the Kama Sutra Aromatic Massage Oil (Sweet Almond scent is a favorite), and a massage tool to make it easy to give for a long time (not just 30 seconds please) like a Heart Massager which really gets into the tight spots. Or for a deluxe experience the Fuzuoko 5 Finger Massage Glove; an ultimate waterproof glove where all 5 finger vibrate up to 45,000 times per minute. Must also make mention to the new Flame of Love, a 3 in one, a candle with a seductive aromatic scent and you pour the candle wax which is actually soy wax and coconut oil that only heats to a very low temperature on the skin for a nice light warmth. Once you have a person relaxed in a heavenly state they can be putty in your hands.

Now lets get something that vibrates, women especially love lots of stimulation on the clitoris. On average women need about 20 minutes of teasing, touching while increasing stimulation. So let some of your tools do some of repetitive efforts and free up your hands and mouth to stimulate other parts of the body and make it easier to multi task. A popular seller for couples for years has been the Diving Dolphin. There are many dolphins so beware, dolphin vibes, dolphin clitoral and g-spot vibes, dolphin clitoral stimulators, dolphin sleeves, mini dolphin... Dolphins traditionally are a mammal that has sex for pleasure as do humans, an obvious cute choice when picking different critters to help you please your lover. Most toys are made from food grade jelly, so less worry for the latex allergy people. The Diving Dolphin is a soft jelly ring that fits gently over the penis that assists in maintaining an erection, but is best known for the exciting stimulation from the two multi speed vibrating bullets it holds. One above the penis to make contact with the clitoris via the dolphin nose on every down stroke, and one below the penis against your testicles. Great fun for both! The similar product called the Rockin Rabbit has become more popular for the larger man as the ring is not as tight and it has two separate remotes to control each of them and to even use separately anywhere externally or internally. All kinds of fun to be had! The latest micro wireless version with one waterproof bullet to position up or down is the SS Bullet and attachments; inexpensive and simple.

So get yourself to an adult store or check on line to discover all these love toys. Many evenings of bliss are awaiting you!

Sandra Weeks
Sensual Secrets
www.sensualecrets.org